Support books, learning and thoughtfully planned creative projects.

Local and national businesses, community groups and organizations are welcome to explore a tailored collaboration with Gail Morin and Detective Sam. Agree on a specific purpose and receive a written proposal before making a commitment.

Sponsor Books for a Classroom

Help provide selected Detective Sam kindness books and educator resources for a classroom, school, library or community group. Identify a recipient or discuss potential placements with Gail.

Request a custom written quote: book titles and editions, student age or grade, quantities, recipient location, delivery needs and preferred timing. Availability, shipping and the total cost are confirmed in the proposal.

Other collaboration ideas

Learning and author programs

Production or in-kind support

Discuss a defined Bible Time Travelers development need, or useful goods, services or professional expertise.

Recognition by agreement

Proposed options include website acknowledgment, approved logo placement or event recognition. Wording, placement and duration depend on the project, recipient policies and written agreement.

No audience size, publicity result or sponsor benefit is promised by this guide.
