Creator of Detective Sam
Retired educator & author

Kindness. Curious minds.
Conversations that begin with a story.

PASTE-READY ON-AIR BIO

Gail Morin is a retired educator, author, and creator of Detective Sam. Her experience spans Catholic schools, public schools, and early childhood education. She holds a B.A. in Education and an M.Ed. in Early Childhood from Grand Canyon University. Through Detective Sam books and Kindness Heroes classroom resources, Gail invites conversations about kindness and bullying prevention. Her classroom resources span preschool through high school, with options for public schools, Christian schools, and homeschool families. She also creates separate, optional Christian resources through Detective Sam and the Bible Time Travelers and Detective Sam's Bible Adventures.

HOST-READ INTRO / ABOUT 20 SECONDS

Today we welcome Gail Morin, a retired educator and creator of Detective Sam books and Kindness Heroes classroom resources. Drawing on experience in Catholic schools, public schools, and early childhood education, Gail explores how stories can open conversations about kindness and bullying.

WHAT LISTENERS CAN TAKE AWAY

Practical discussion ideas for educators, parents, and homeschool families: age-appropriate kindness conversations, story prompts to explore everyday choices, and ways to continue the discussion at home.

Four suggested topics. Six ready-to-use host questions.

SUGGESTED INTERVIEW TOPICS

01 Everyday kindness

Using stories to start conversations about caring choices and how children treat one another.

02 Talking about bullying

Opening age-appropriate discussions with children, families, and educators.

03 From preschool to high school

Adapting kindness conversations and classroom resources for different ages and learning settings.

04 The educator behind the stories

Gail's journey from teaching to creating Detective Sam books and Kindness Heroes resources.

QUESTIONS HOSTS CAN USE

- 01 What inspired Detective Sam, and why did you choose a detective to tell these stories?
- 02 How has your teaching experience shaped the characters and conversations you create?
- 03 What makes a kindness conversation approachable for young children?
- 04 How would you adapt that conversation for teenagers?
- 05 How can parents and homeschool families continue these discussions at home?
- 06 How do your general kindness resources differ from your optional Christian Bible Adventures resources?
